

there will be monthly (AH!) attention sphere events and collaborations in Temperance Alley Garden during the spring, summer and fall through Kendall's stump fellowship.

to stay in the know about sphere events along with other fun events in the area, check out attentionsphere.org and subscribe to our newsletter there!

if you are interested in hosting an event in the Attention Sphere or want us to feature your event, please reach out to: kendall@theattentionstudio.com thank you for your attention.

doesn't that feel nice?

ATTENTION!

did that work? may we have your attention? please?

thank you.

welcome to the Attention Sphere.

we kindly ask for people's attention and then direct back to the people, places and events in their communities that need/value it.

starting in DC! lucky u.

the attention sphere is the non-profit arm of the attention studio, a new initiative working to make controlling your attention culturally and politically salient upcoming events:

re-imagine ur digital future an imaginative & creative evening where we'll dream up our ideal digital worlds, examine what's in the way, and craft personal digital constitutions: goals, rules, and promises for how we want to live with and without our screens

april 27

temperance
alley garden

6-8pm

FLIRT

may 9 wanigati

gardens

5-8pm

a lighthearted, consent-forward gathering for warm, open-hearted humans ready to flirt, connect, and meet new people the old-fashioned way.

missed connections: BARTER NIGHT get what you need in person, not online. come with 3 ideas for goods & services you want to trade – a homemade dinner? an old lamp? a tarot reading? tennis lessons? a pep talk? – and make new friends while you barter away.

may 10

temperance
alley garden

3-5pm